The Programme:

The entire educational dynamics of the country is standing in a cross road. The tension between massification and demand of quality of education is posing great challenges to all the stakeholders in education, starting from policy makers to teachers, teaching in the classroom. In the context of the sea change in the landscape of educational dynamics, it has been observed that there is an increasing demand for empowered human resource in planning and administrative management position in almost all the sector of educational system.

There is a dearth of expert manpower in educational planning & administration. On the contrary there is growing demand of expert manpower in the field of educational planning & administration. NCTE in its new regulation laid down such exposure and added qualification in 'educational planning and administration' as desirable qualification for appointment of higher administrative post. Starting from appointment of school principal to administrative functionaries of higher education are in needs of people with such unique qualification. The West Bengal University of Teachers' Training, Education Planning and Administration (WBUTTEPA), is going to start the programme of Post-Graduate Diploma in Educational Planning and Administration (PGDEPA) from 2020 for the academic session 2020-2021. This programme has been designed keeping in mind the relevant contemporary qualitative knowledge and skill needed for educational planning and administration. This programme would be able to provide a comprehensive view of the evolving theoretical as well as practical aspects of educational planning and administration in existing and emerging scenario.

This two semester programme leads to Post-Graduate Diploma. However, keeping in view the challenges faced by the people already in professional engagement, the programme has been designed with certain flexibility. It provides varying modalities for the transaction of course. The class timing will be flexible and in cases at late afternoon. The project work is to be done at work station of participant. Theory classes, project presentation and evaluation should be conducted at the university and on-line depending on the requirement.

N.B.: The course will be offered initially from the Second Campus of the University at Sarsuna, Behala, Kolkata. The programme will be transacted through combination of both face to face and online mode i.e. in blended mode. It is also to note here most experienced Faculty members / Scholars / Administrators will take academic sessions and provide other support.
